Kim Tenreiro is celebrating the third anniversary of his membership in Rotary. He reports that more than half of this year's coupon books have been sold.

Paul Reed just returned from 3 months in Florida.

Rocco Pietropaolo, Sr. is happy to be back from his 'longest time away'.

President Lynne is happy that after 59 weeks, her kids are back in school five days a week.

Marty Muehe celebrated his daughter-in-law's 40th birthday

Program: Jenny Goodemote introduced three staff from Wood Library (see guest list) and together, the group shared the following:

- New patrons can now register for and receive a library card entirely online
- OWWL to-go has recent, new enhancements
- A new partnership allows public school students automatic access to Wood Library online
- Ancestry.com can now be accessed remotely
- Curbside pickup will continue
- Librarians continue accepting virtual reference questions
- WiFi is now available on the library property – inside and out – 24/7
- Children's programming is now enjoying a next-generation following as former participants are now raising their own children
- The Story Walk in Baker Park is updated monthly
- Youth programming is very popular online – Teen Lit Tuesdays, Teen Theater on YouTube, online gaming
- Adult programming including New Yorker Discussion Group has attracted a larger geographic audience now it's gone online
- New programs include Job Readiness for Women, Virtual Wine Tasting, Naturalist programming, intro to new books and Take and Make kits
- Many services and amenities have been restored and some business hours have been extended.
- HOOPLA is a new online streaming service.

Reminder: the Library is on the docket for a small increase in levy. Be sure to vote on the school budget.

Next week's program is Bridges for Brain Injury.

50/50: Ed O'Connor and Sandy Rogers. 9 of Spades

Tom Rogers led the group on the 4-Way Test.
